

Duets

Duets offers alternating looks into the lives of two women who would seem to have little or nothing in common. Screen star Molly Harper has it all—beauty, success in her profession, a loving family and an upcoming marriage to actor Ben Delmonico. But as Molly is on the verge of marrying the man who has swept her off her feet, she still wonders if he hasn't swept all her feelings for her first love away, Cruz Morales. A handsome and cerebral college professor, Molly and Cruz have an on-again, off-again history stretching back to Molly's early teen years. He's not a man who a girl can ever forget about, and his feelings for Molly are equally conflicted. Anne Sullivan, happily married for twenty-five years, is fighting to hold onto the man she loves, and hold off a confrontation that could shatter her family's image of what they are. It involves the beautiful screen star and her mother, upper crust matron Norma Wintz, who Anne has traveled to California to meet under the most dramatic of circumstances. Duets confronts the most intimate type of family secret that ties these two women's lives together, just as chance events turn Molly and Anne's worlds upside down.

album by American singer Frank Sinatra, released in 1993. Recorded near the end of Sinatras career, it consists of electronically assembled duets. Some of our favorite duets are oldies from Johnny Cash and June Carter and Kenny Rogers and Dolly Parton, and some are newer songs from stars like. The Closer I Get To You. Roberta Flack with Donny Hathaway. I Just Cant Stop Loving You. Michael Jackson With Siedah Garrett. 38 . Im Your Angel. Wild Night. John Mellencamp With MeShell Ndegeocello. The Next Time I Fall. Peter Cetera with Amy Grant. I Got You Babe. Sonny & Cher. All I Have. No More Tears (Enough Is A duet is a musical composition for two performers in which the performers have equal importance to the piece, often a composition involving two singers or two pianists. It differs from a harmony, as the performers take turns performing a solo section rather than performing simultaneously.
